

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

READINESS FOR INSPIRATION

Inspiration is the feeder for innovation. We are able to innovate and create new ideas, systems or things based on the inspirations we receive. Often what triggers the occurrence of the inspiration is the acquired knowledge and experiences. Greater the amount of knowledge, higher is the inspiration one receives.

In this regard, the words of Pablo Picasso “inspiration does exist, but it must find you working” is so precious and inviting. He reminds us that an active mind or a person seeking new ideas stands with a better chance to receive inspiration. Or else, the eternal truth that active thinking leads to inspiration or inspiration finds people who are thinking or working ought to motivate everyone to keep engaging in thought and actions. This process can lead to greater success and satisfaction.
